The BCI 60/30 Steel Shelving System used today, all over the world, is a direct result of customer feedback. The response about the extensive use and wear and tear of a library shelving system has been taken into account to design and finish a shelving system which has become a premiere line. Designed for use in libraries, this shelving system meets the functional and aesthetic requirements of all kinds of libraries thanks to the modularity of design and the simplicity of assembly.

The combination of the modular structure and the large number of standard components ensures ideal room utilization and rational accommodation of all relevant functions. In addition, the flexibility of the system allows varied shelving configuration combining different components.
Gothia is shelving with character.

Uprights of steel tubes, grey textured lacquer and wood edging on the front uprights create a design combination of strength and stability. Impressively, the shelving gives an overall illusion of lightness with sides that are open frameworks. Designers can retain the openness or can select end panels in frosted glass, perforated steel or wood for more privacy. Whichever accessories are chosen, an environment is created that is functionally pleasing and creative.
The display needs of libraries are extensive and frequently changing. They are considered to be a unique specialty. That is why BCI has developed the widest range of shelving functions for storage and display currently on the market. All of these functions can be used with Gothia Shelving.
The Opal Shelving System is BCI’s latest steel shelving system – designed as a frame construction. One of Opal’s most prominent features is its spaciousness as a linear statement. It can also be designed with a completely unique expression or can be adapted to blend unobtrusively into any existing space. In concrete terms, this adaptability to environment is only matched by its stability, a primary characteristic of the frame construction.

The philosophy behind this shelving system is that it is an unparalleled architectural statement. Opal should be considered when embracing a wide variety of architectural expressions – while it always remains true to itself and its unique identity.
At BCI, we consider it the greatest compliment when our furniture fulfills the client’s expectations and its use becomes second nature. In libraries, the compliment comes through when a room is created that extends beyond the physical and aesthetics are merged with function. The Opal Shelving System does that effortlessly with style and grace.
Our wooden shelving system known as Softline/Slimline/Frontline offers one of the most functional and flexible shelving designs on the market. Shelving bays may be combined into a shelving system, using sections and shelves for easy rearrangement, expansion, and add-ons, without expert assistance. The two wood end panels of the starter section are smooth and veneered on the outside, with holes for wooden or steel shelves on the inside. The inner upright panel has holes on both sides. The shelving bays are joined using either an open steel frame or a wooden back. This solution makes it easy to add or remove individual bays without disassembling the other bays.
Softline comes with standard bull-nosed edges on the end panels; Slimline has straight edges on the end panels; Frontline has straight edges and a “flusher” finish with the front panel and shelves. Additionally, this system offers end panel bays, magazine singles and radius shelving which can create winding shelving bays. The possibilities are endless!

A SMART CHOICE FOR SMART LIBRARIANS.

ShowITall

With a smart extra optional set of desk plates, Showalot Ladder (4466 or 4467) can be converted into a search station with a variable working height. The search station has space for a keyboard, flat screen monitor and CPU or client. Join the two sections together, remove four or five of the shelves on one or both sides and insert the larger desk plate at the appropriate working height and the smaller desk plate at the bottom. All plates are fitted with practical holes to allow the cables through. The desk plates are installed with the help of the included straps. Hey presto, you’ve got a search station with or without display.
